

Year 5 went to the Design Museum and learned more about skateboarding as part of the community. We have been learning about communities in History, and also stumbled across this wall on the way back, commemorating the different kinds of culture you can find in just the one building!

We also tried a science experiment which...didn't go well!
We've evaluated it, and can't wait to try to grow again!